GRAND OLD MAN OF MASONRY DIES SUDDENLY

Henry G. Sandifer Found Dead on Banks of Hocking Fork—Native of Lincoln

Every one in this community was greatly shocked Saturday afternoon when Henry G. Sandifer had been found dead on the banks of Hocking Fork, as a result of what was believed to be a heart attack, from which he had been a sufferer for some time. Mr. Sandifer was a native of Lincoln county, and was probably the best known Mason in Kentucky. He was greatly beloved among the Masons here. Only a few weeks ago he came here at the head of the Danville degree team and officiated at the exemplification of the third degree upon Harvey Helm. The editor of the L. J. had the great pleasure of taking the first three chapter degrees under this grand old man only last week, and will ever treasure the memory of his words and his work.

A delegation from Lincoln Lodge went to Danville Saturday night to attend a lodge of arrangements for the funeral, among those who went over being, Dr. T. W. Pennington, Master of the local lodge, George P. Bright, John N. Menefee, Jr., J. N. Saunders.

The Danville Advoate Saturday had this account of the death of Mr. Sandifer:

The whole community was greatly shocked shortly after noon today when the report became current that Mr. H. G. Sandifer, Sr., Cashier of the Boyle Bank & Trust Co., had been found dead on the Hocking Fork near the bridge on the old Lancaster pike. He was found by a colored boy named Harlan. By his side was a bucket of mummox which he had just caught, preparatory to fishing. Apparently he had stopped to take a little rest when he fell forward on his breast, where he expired. The indications are that his death came without a struggle.

Mr. Sandifer left his home in Danville this morning about 6:30 o'clock and friends saw him at Hedgesville about 7 o'clock. From there he went directly to the river. He was found shortly before noon. The colored boy did not know who he was and notified the store at Hedgesville, which in turn called Sheriff Fox, who hurried to the river. The sheriff then notified friends and relatives in Danville.

Mr. Sandifer went to the river alone this morning, which was not unusual, as his custom was to be accompanied. He had been in fairly good health and had not complained. However, he had suffered slight attacks of heart disease in the past and the supposition is that he was suddenly attacked.

For forty-six years he had been connected with the Boyle National Bank and the Boyle Bank and Trust Co., and for the past fifteen years cashier, having succeeded the late John W. Proctor. He was secretary of the Danville Building and Loan Association and was one of the most prominent Masons in the State of Kentucky. He had served as past Grand Commander of the Knights Templar of Kentucky and had filled all the offices in the local Masonic lodge and Commandery a number of times and was greatly beloved by the large membership of both orders.

Mr. Sandifer was a leading and useful member of the Methodist church and had always taken a deep interest in all matters pertaining to the moral and commercial uplift of the community.

As an evidence of the deep esteem in which he is regarded by all citizens, the public speaking which was to have been held at the court house this afternoon was immediately cancelled upon the announcement of his death. He was not only one of the best posted Masons in the state but one of the best citizens in every particular. He was about seventy years of age and is survived by his wife and one son, Judge Henry Sandifer, Jr.

Old Crab Orchard Distillery Sold.

(Louisville Herald.)

The old Crab Orchard Distillery, at Crab Orchard, Ky., about forty miles from Louisville, has just been sold to a syndicate of Chicago men. This announcement was made yesterday at the offices of the Fidelity Trust Co., which concern represented the creditors of the former owners. It is understood that the consideration was around $1,500.

The legal end of the transaction was looked after by Attorneys McDermott and Ray. The names of the purchasing parties were not disclosed. It is understood here that the distillery, which covers a large acreage, will be operated again.

The plant has been idle for several years past, but is said to be in excellent condition. It formerly belonged to the Crab Orchard Distillery Co., which wound up its affairs "for the benefit of creditors a few months ago.

Ed Walton Goes to Richmond

Ed C. Walton last week purchased an interest in the Richmond Climax and left this morning for the capital of Madison to take charge since disposing of the Somerset Times. Mr. Walton has been prospecting among Kentucky newspapers and came to the conclusion that Richmond offered a splendid field.

Editor A. D. Miller, of the Climax, has been compelled to get out into the country, on account of his health and with Ed Walton in charge of the plant, the Climax will undoubtedly again take front rank in the list of Kentucky newspapers.

Local Foot Ball Boys Defeat Lan- easter—Other School News.

(By James Cooper.)

With the exception of merely a practice game with the town team, the Stanford High School foot ball team played its first game with Lancaster's school team on last Friday, playing on the latter's grounds. It was larger than last year, and the interest manifested by these young people in the study of musical history, and analysis will be very gratifying to all who are interested in the development of a broader and higher musical interest among our young people. An afternoon devoted to American Music will be given in the Auditorium at an early date.

WORLD CONVENTION

Of Disciples at Louisville Attended By Many Local Christians

Rev. D. M. Walker, pastor of the Stanford Christian church, headed a good sized delegation of Lincoln Christians to the world convention of Disciples of Christ in session in Louisville this week. Among those went from here in addition to the pastor, were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tate, Mrs. John S. Vaughan, Miss Pauline Hooper, Mesdames Penman Brown, Mary Craig, W. P. Grimes, L. B. Cook, W. A. Tribble, J. G. Carpenter, J. C. Embanks.

An attendance of 30,000 or 40,000 people is expected at the big convention.

Attending it will be delegates from every state in the Union, neighboring Canada, distant Australia, Holland, Africa, Tibet, Japan and the Isles of the ocean, wherever missionaries of the Christian faith have gone. Louisville this week is the Mecca of Christians.

The convention will be such in extent that Louisville men and others have devoted themselves to its preparation for almost a year. Twenty-five committees, composed of the leading clergymen of the faith in the city, have labored for more than seven months in making arrangements for the comfort of the guests and the convenience of the various organizations to be represented.

Attending the convention are many alluring side trips. Rides will be made to Mammoth Cave, Keeney's quote of the seven wonders of the world; to Lincoln's birthplace and the memorial hall where the cabin of the martyred President is zealously guarded; to the famous Bluegrass section, and to the little old, Cane Ridge church, where the Christian faith had its beginning in this state.

The convention, as a matter of fact, will be thirteen conventions in one. The various organizations that will be represented are: American Missionary Society, Foreign Christian Missionary Society, Christian Woman's Board of Missions, Board of Ministerial Relief, National Board of Christian Evangelists, Board of Church Extension, National Benevolent Association, American Temperance Board, National Board of Christian Endeavor, the Council of Christian Union, Brotherhood of Disciples of Christ, National Bible School Association.

A tribute to the nationalities of the visitors is contained in the musical program. A chorus of 500 voices will sing a number of national anthems. But the first song that will greet the ears of the delegates is "My Old Kentucky Home."

ASSASSIN TRIES TO KILL THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Bull Moose Candidate for President Slightly Wounded by Bullet In His Right Shoulder

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 14.—Col.

Theodore Roosevelt was shot and wounded tonight as he was leaving the Gilpatrick Hotel for the Auditorium to make a speech. The wound was supposed to be superficial and the Colonel went on to the hall and began his speech after he had seen his assailant arrested and taken to the police station. An examination later showed that the injury was only a slight flesh wound in the right shoulder.

Mr. Martin, Col. Roosevelt's secretary, seized the man and held him until police came up. A mob surged around the prisoner, who apparently is mentally upset on the subject of Roosevelt's running for another term as President.

The man, who is small of stature, admitted firing the shot and said that "any man looking for a third term ought to be shot."

In notes found in the man's pocket at the police station were statements that the man had been visited in a dream by the spirit of William McKinley, who had said, indicating Col. Roosevelt, "This is my murderer, avenge my death."

The shooting took place in the street in front of the Hotel Gilpatrick. Col. Roosevelt reached Milwaukee shortly after 5 o'clock and making his way through the crowd, which had gathered at the station, entered an automobile and was driven to the hotel. He took dinner in a private dining room on the main floor with the members of the party on his private car.

After dinner Col. Roosevelt went to his room on the second floor of the hotel, and shortly before 8 o'clock he started for the Auditorium. His automobile stood in front of the door and about it was a big crowd, waiting to catch a glimpse of the Colonel as he started off.

With the Col. were Phillip Roosevelt, a young cousin, Mr. Poehens, Mr. Martin and Capt. Girard.

The crowd pressed close about the Colonel and gave cheer as he appeared. As the party approached the automobile Col. Roosevelt's companion stood aside and he stepped into the car. Martin entered directly behind him and sat on the further side of the car.

Col. Roosevelt stood up, waving his hat in answer to the cheers of the crowd. The assassin was standing in the crowd a few feet from the automobile. He pushed his way to the side of the car and raising his gun fired.

Martin caught the flash and leaped over the car a second after the bullet sped on its way.

Col. Roosevelt barely moved as the shot was fired. Before the crowd knew what had happened, Martin, who is six feet tall and a former football player, had bounded squarely on the assassin's shoulder and had borne him to the ground. He threw his right arm about the man's neck with a death-like grip and with his left arm seized the hand that held the revolver. In another second he had disarmed him.

Col. Roosevelt stood calmly looking on, as though nothing had happened. Martin picked the man up though he were a child and carried him a few feet, which separated them from the car, almost to the side of the tunnel.

"Here he is," said Martin, "look at him, Colonel."

All this happened within a few seconds and Col. Roosevelt stood gazing rather curiously at the man who attempted his life before the stunned crowd realized what was going on. Then a howl of rage went up.

"Lynch him! Kill him!" cried a hundred men. The crowd pressed in on them and Martin and Capt. Girard, who had followed Martin over the side of the automobile, were caught with their prisoner in the midst of a struggling throng of maddened men. It seemed for the moment that he would be torn to pieces by the infuriated men, and it was Col. Roosevelt himself who intervened on his behalf.

He raised his hand and motioned to the crowd to fall back.

"Stop, stop," he cried; "stand back; don't hurt him."

The men in the crowd at first were not disposed to heed his words, but at length fell back and permitted Martin and Capt. Girard to carry the man into the hotel.

The prisoner told the police after an hour's examination that he was John Schrank, of 370 East 17th street, New York. He had had on his person a copy of the Colonel's itinerary, written on a sheet of note paper taken from the Bismarck Hotel and Cafe, Nashville, Tenn.

The would-be assassin is five-feet five inches in height, weighs 170 pounds, light complexion, bald and fairly well dressed. He confessed to the police that he fired the shot and remarked:

"Any man looking for a third term ought to be shot."

A written proclamation found in the clothing of the man who did the shooting reads:

"September 15, 1912—September 15, 1913, 1:30 a. m., in a dream I saw President McKinley sit up in a man's attire in whom I recognized Theodore Roosevelt. The President said 'this is my murderer, avenge my death.'

"September 12, 1912, 1:30 a. m., while writing a poem, some one tapped me on the shoulder and said: 'Let not a murderer take the presidential chair. Avenge my death.' I could plainly see Mr. McKinley's features. Before Almighty God, I swear this above writing is nothing but the truth."

Col. Roosevelt's wound was so slight that he left for Chicago at midnight, declaring that he would continue on his itinerary.

Women Want Ellis Executed

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 12.—The Capital witnessed to-day the unusual spectacle of a delegation of women militantly arrayed on the side of the capital punishment. The delegation came from Burnside and called on Gov. McCrory to protest against commutation of the death sentence imposed on James Ellis, who shot and killed Squire Beatty and Constable Heath there about a year ago. Friends of Ellis have petitioned the Governor to commute his punishment to life imprisonment.

The killing took place in an office and a score of shots were fired. When the shooting was over and the smoke cleared away Beatty and Heath were dead. The affair aroused the community and these women, matted with mule scents, came to Frankfort and visited Gov. McCrory. In the party were Mrs. A. B. Massie, Mrs. J. A. Mann, Mrs. J. L. McKedwin, Mrs. Abner G. Jones, Mrs. M. M. Uhl, Mrs. W. S. Phillips, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. J. W. Sloan, Mrs. M. W. Duncan, Mrs. E. H. Nash, and Miss Stella Lewis.

A political boss once said "I would rather have one saloon actively at work for me than all the churches in town."

If it is right to license millionaire brewers and distillers to make intoxicating liquors, is it wrong to sell and drink it?

We do not license men to make counterfeit money and they have legal option elections to decide whether it shall be passed in one county and not in another. It is pronounced an evil and is prohibition in both state and nation.

If those in Lincoln county who voted dry last February would vote for the Prohibition party candidate where would the three license party candidates be? But instead a large majority of them are going to cast a ballot so much like the brewers, distillers, saloon keepers and bootleggers that the Angels could not tell one from the other. Somebody is going to be fooled. It will not be

"Turkey Tom" Ready for Business.

T. W. Goode, the popular turkey buyer, of the McKinney section, will soon be out after the gobblers again this fall. He has been buying the luscious birds for the past 15 years, and is known to every housewife and turkey raiser in this section, and is familiarly called "Turkey Tom" by his host of friends. There is no better judge of turkeys anywhere than Mr. Goode and his coming is always eagerly awaited about the time the frost gets on the pumpkins and the fiddler's in the shock.

MRS. WM. MCKINNEY

Passes Away Suddenly at West End
Home of Acute Indigestion

Mrs. William McKinney died at her home near McKinney Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock after only a few hours illness. She was seized with an attack of acute indigestion about 11 o'clock and being alone in the house at the time it was some time before her illness was known and physicians reached her too late to afford much relief. Deceased was born in Pulaski county 58 years ago and moved to this county when a young woman. In early life she united with the Presbyterian church and her life had always been that of a constant Christian. In addition to her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mandy Tyree, of Raleigh, N. C., one brother, S. M. Owens, of Lincoln and three sisters, Mesdames Jos. Sallee, of Harrisonsburg, J. M. Owens, of Somerset, and Mrs. Lelia Cook, of this city.

After funeral services conducted at the home of her brother by Rev. C. R. Blain, of Hustonville, Sunday afternoon the remains were brought to Buffalo cemetery and laid to rest in the presence of a concourse of sorrowing friends and devoted relatives.

PROHIBITION SPARKS

There are a great many temperance people who want every one else to stop drinking but themselves. A good church member told me that Prohibition was right, that the people are taking in this contest, for it is generally a mighty hard matter to get a good crowd to a speaking on an October court day. Congressman Harvey Helm introduced Judge Wilson, with a few well chosen remarks in the course of which he took occasion to express his gratitude to the loyal democrats of Lincoln county for the splendid majority they had given him in the primary contest last August.

Judge Wilson is one of the ablest and most competent speakers in the state and he made a grand argument for democracy, and pleased all who heard him. He warned democrats not to become indifferent and think that Woodrow Wilson is going to win anyway and will not need their votes. Everyone should go to the polls, and make sure that his majority is assured.

Plans are being made by County Chairman McCarty for speaking all over the county the last two weeks before the election, with a final wind-up in a big rally here the Saturday before election day.

Gen. Grant's Son for Wilson

New York, Oct. 11.—Jesse R. Grant was appointed a member of the finance committee of the New York Democratic state committee today. Mr. Grant, who is the son of President Grant, is one of the most enthusiastic supporters of Gov. Wilson. "I am going to do all in my power to bring around the election of Governor Wilson," says Mr. Grant. "I know of no one better equipped to grace the White House than Governor Wilson. His views on the tariff are appealing to the sensible business men of the country. I think he is going to receive the greatest number of republican votes ever given to a Democratic candidate for office. He is not only going to draw from Roosevelt's following (and this may sound like a remarkable statement), but he is also going to decimate the ranks of the old time republicans until they will present on election day a mighty weak and shattered line.

"If Governor Wilson is to lose any Democratic votes I have yet to hear of the fact. The independent voter is in favor of him and in view of all this I do not see the slightest chance for any of the other candidates to even give him a close race. In this campaign I am convinced that Governor Wilson is going to gain ground every day rather than lose. My reason for stating this is that the people are becoming better acquainted with him and we are learning of the earnestness of the man and his high type of citizenship and his marvelous personality. I would not undertake to predict what will be the fate of the Republican party after this election, but I am convinced that it will never be swallowed up by the followers of Col. Roosevelt."
